To Wheelwrights, Blacksmiths, Tanners, Harness-Makers, Saddlers, Hatters, &c.
BELIEVING as I do, that PROVIDENCE, at Fairfax Court-House, would be a suitable situation for mechanics of the above description, I offer to such, lots in that village for sale, on ground rent for ever—will build and furnish suitable houses and rent to them, or furnish brick to them to build with; and invite any who feel disposed to settle there, for the purpose of carrying on their respective trades to advantage, to come and view the situation. It is a very public place, the centre of the county, where the superior and county courts are held. The Little River Turnpike Road passes through this little town from Alexandria westward, and where all the public meetings for the county, &c. are held; and where trades of the aforesaid description being carried on, would meet with great encouragement, and be a public convenience to the country around. No situation can be more healthy—good water, and fire wood cheap. Mechanics of the above description must generally depend on the country people, farmers, &c. to be their customers. Here they would be in a convenient situation for all the purposes. I invite a call, and view for themselves. I would also furnish lots adjacent, from one to five acres each, for cultivation, pasture, &c. on moderate terms; all of which can be shown, and terms made known, on application to RICH'D. RATCLIFFE,
Fairfax Court-House, Va.

Fifty Dollars Reward.

RAN away on the 28th of April, from the farm of the subscriber, in Dogue Neck, Fairfax Co. Virginia, negro HARRY, aged about twenty three years, about five feet ten inches high, very black, well built, has a considerable impediment in his speech, when spoken to evinces much confusion, and replies almost unintelligibly: had on when he left home, a much worn suit of domestic cloth. I have every reason to believe that he is endeavoring to pass for a free man, and as such went off, in some of the bay craft during the late fishing season. All masters of vessels are forewarned from harboring or taking into their employ said negro, under penalty of having the law rigidly enforced against them. I will give twenty dollars, if taken in the county of Fairfax, or district of Columbia; if beyond that distance, the above reward, provided he is secured in jail so that I get him again. February 24

For Sale or Lease,

THE following tracts of land in Charles county, Maryland: one lying on the Potomac, at the mouth of Pomonkey creek, containing three hundred and forty acres, about 16 miles from Alexandria, the larger portion level land, of a stiff soil, well adapted to the cultivation of corn, wheat and tobacco, and equal in fertility to any in the neighborhood. On this farm is one of the most elegant sites for building of all those fine heights which border the Potomac, commanding the most extensive view of the adjacent country, both in Virginia and Maryland, for more than twenty miles up and down the river: located in a genteel neighborhood, it would make an agreeable residence, and from its proximity to market, with the advantage of the best navigation, an extremely profitable farm.—The tenant's houses would accommodate the negroes for its cultivation.
A Tract, about one mile back from the former, containing 334 acres, a large portion in wood, white and red oak, and some chesnut; the remainder a tenement in tolerable repair, the whole a high stiff soil, similar to the one above mentioned.
A Tract, lying at the mouth of Mattawoman Creek, about 25 miles from Alexandria, the whole first rate flat river land, now completely enclosed.—On this tract is a noted fishery, called Rum Point, at which there has been cleared upwards of two thousand dollars per annum, and where independent of the fish sold on the shore, there might be put up from one to two thousand barrels every season; besides the profits of the fishery, the advantage of manuring the farm with the offal of the shore, the whole, with a small portion of industry, might be made to produce ten barrels of corn per acre. On the shore, are a dwelling house, houses for holding salt, and curing any quantity of fish, and for the accommodation of hands.
A Tract, lying about 1½ miles from the last mentioned, containing 236 acres, more than 200 of which are in wood, and would cut from 25 to 30 cords per acre, within one mile of the river, where wood has rarely sold for less than five dollars per cord. It will be divided into 50 or 25 acre lots, to suit purchasers.—If preferred, the wood will be sold standing, for so much per acre.
If not disposed of, previous to the first day of Sept. next, the above mentioned arable lands, will be leased out, upon advantageous terms, for five or seven years, at the option of the lessees.
Application to be made to the subscriber, residing near the head of Mattawoman Creek, Charles county, Maryland.

GAZETTE AND
Alexandria Daily Advertiser.

PUBLISHED BY SAMUEL SNOWDEN,
ROYAL-STREET.

Daily Gazette, 7 dolls...Country, 5 dolls.

THURSDAY, JULY 8, 1819.

The following toasts were drank at a dinner of the Alexandria Rifle Company, commanded by Capt. W. A. Harper, on Monday 5th July, at Smith's Grove, near the Federal Springs:—

The day we celebrate—may the principles which actuated our fathers ever be cherished by their descendants.

The memory of WASHINGTON—when freemen in arms their convivial adoration pay, the host of heaven approves.

The heroes of the revolution—millions unborn shall venerate their names, and the rising infant be taught to lisp their praise.

The French army of 1778—time will not eradicate from the minds of Americans the gratitude due for their support in the struggle for independence, whatever may be their opinion of the policy of its government.

The President of the United States—the favorite magistrate of a free people.

The heads of departments—wise in council; in peace or war, cool, temperate, and determined.

Union of parties—provided it be bottomed on principle, the general interest not party domination.

General Jackson, the Hero of Orleans—his promptitude and decision in Florida has added an additional wreath to his brow.

The officers and soldiers of the late war—as citizens we acknowledge obligations, as soldiers we congratulate them on their merited honors.

The army and navy—may they ever appreciate the approbation of their country as their greatest reward.

The Congress of the United States—away with all calculating policy, reward liberally, and in the hour of national danger the defenders of their country will show their daring spirit.

De La Fayette, a hero of the revolution, a virtuous politician—may the scion of the tree of liberty, transplanted by them on the continent, again vegetate, and all Europe recline under its branches.

Freemen in arms, the legitimate guardians of their rights—when united and marshalled in their country's cause, an ambitious chieftain will never dare to attempt the subversion of their liberties.

The fair sex—Venus, Minerva, and the Graces, have endowed them with their attributes, by creation's order—the consummation of perfection and joys, for an apprentice hand made man, a master hand woman.

THE ARKANSAS.

The fourth day of July, will date the commencement of the political existence of this territory. Its value will soon be developed, and its rich soil covered with cotton planters.—Gen. Rector has already prepared several millions of acres of land in that territory for market. The sales may be brought on as soon as the secretary of the treasury pleases, and the sooner the better, as no grounds belonging to the United States have yet been sold in that country. Heretofore the Arkansas has only communicated with New-Orleans by way of St. Louis, Nashville, and Natchez, that is to say, by going almost round the world to get to a point a little below the point from which it started. Hereafter the mail will go direct from Arkansas to the Ouachita, and thence to New-Orleans.

[Western paper.

IMPORTANT CESSION.

It is stated in the Canada papers, that the Missisagua Indians have ceded to the British Government a tract of 2,748,000 acres of land, equal in extent to 46 townships.—It is said, that "this tract embraces that elegant river, the Mississippi, from its source until its entrance into the Lake Chandiere, or Ottawa river."

[N. Y. Commercial Adv.

It is stated that the monarchs of Russia and Prussia have signified to Bernadotte, that he must abdicate the throne of Sweden, on the ground, probably, that he is not of the legitimate stock. This news, if correct, furnishes a notable example of royal perfidy. They accredited Bernadotte, when they wanted his assistance, against Bonaparte, and cozened him and rewarded his services with Norway. Bernadotte's fidelity to his old chief and patron, might have preserved France from invasion and conquest. But he perfered new friends—and they are now about to punish him for his ingratitude.

[Albany Argus.

Norfolk, July 2, 1819.

Twenty of the crew of the armed brig Irresistible, who, as we stated a short time since were apprehended and committed to jail in this Borough by a warrant from the Mayor, upon information establishing the charge of piracy against them, took their departure yesterday in the steam boat for Richmond, well manacled and guarded, to appear before a special session of the Circuit Court of the United States, to take their trial. We should be sorry to make any remark that might be construed into a prejudication of their case, but while we watched their countenances as they moved in grim procession from the prison to the wharf, we were forcibly reminded of a scene in the play of Robin Hood, where that merry wight 'yclept Little John takes the chair and wig of justice to try his prisoner, Scarlet; and we could not help asking ourselves, what chance these unfortunate wretches would have, if their looks were to be taken in evidence against them! After enumerating three other reasons why the prisoner ought to be hanged, our sagacious justice Little John adds—"And fourthly, you must be hanged because you have a d——d hanging look." [Herald.

Norfolk, July 2.

TORNADO.

We have seldom experienced a heavier gust, than one which came up on Wednesday, about 3 o'clock, P. M. from the Southward.—In this place some trifling damage was sustained by the violence of the wind, which blew down several trees, window shutters and pailings. Our neighbors in Hampton, by the following letter, from a respectable source, appear to have been more roughly treated:

"The parallel of yesterday's Tornado is not within the recollection of the oldest of our inhabitants.—Such was the violence of the wind, (accompanied with hail of uncommon size,) that neither houses nor trees could resist its fury. The windows of my houses were blown in, a chimney blown off—Jones's house unroofed, and a chimney prostrated—two large trees from the yard of E. Smith blown into the street, and to cap the climax, a pilot boat built vessel, from Smithfield, at anchor near our wharf, upset. The destruction of window glass is incalculable. We had serious apprehensions for the steam-boat Sea-Horse; she, however, although in the roads, sustained no injury, but was compelled to anchor." [Beacon.

The people in Washington county, in the state of Indiana, have resolved not to support for any office of trust, honor or profit, any person who is an officer or director of any bank, or has any interest therein.

Pittsburgh, June 29.

A letter from a respectable house in Louisville, Kentucky, to Messrs. Bonnet & Rouand of this place, dated the 14th of June, mentions, that several cases of the Yellow Fever had occurred in that town, and that those who were attacked with it, died! [Gazette.

DRINKING COLD WATER.

Philadelphia, June 21.

It will be seen by the Health Office Report, given this day, that two men have already perished this warm season, by imprudently drinking cold water. The many admonitions made public on this subject, together with the serious example of the unfortunate individuals who have thus untimely perished, it is hoped, will deter others from following so dangerous an example.—One of them, who resided in the Northern Liberties, had a wife and three children—and so extreme was their poverty, that not a cent, nor a mouthful to eat, could be found in the house, at the time of his decease! The neighbors, to their praise be it spoken, immediately made a collection, to supply them with the comforts of life. [Am. Daily Adv.

On Wednesday last, two men, John Town, aged about 20, belonging to Londonderry, and Jerry Lara, a native of Ireland, where it is said, he has a wife now living, were drowned by the sinking of a scow employed at the dam erecting from Charles-street to Brookline. There were seven others on board at the time, who fortunately escaped drowning. [N. Y. pap.

In Philadelphia, 20,000 persons are daily begging the manufacturers for work.—The price paid there by the Commissary General, for making a pair of pantaloons, or a shirt for a soldier, is 12½ cents. Thus a woman to earn $1 50 per week, must make two shirts or two pair of pantaloons each day. In New-York, the same thing exists. I have seen 600 women at daylight before a counting-house in Greenwich street, soliciting work of a manufacturer. [Con. Cour.

From the New-York Daily Advertiser.

An obliging friend has favored us with the following extract of a letter from Trinidad, Port of Spain, dated May 2nd, 1819.

We are never without political news of our unfortunate revolutionary neighbors:—And my sentiments are so congenial, with those of that party, who are struggling for independence, freedom and good laws, that I feel a sincere and ardent interest for their success. Inspired with the god-like principles of the immortal father of United America, the pure milk of which was instilled in my mind, by the famed institutions of his happy country, I cannot but sympathize in the noble cause of a people, who have been enslaved for three centuries—a people who have wallowed in the mire of tyranny and superstition.

When I contemplate the unhappy fate of the unfortunate independents of the south, it chills the very current of my blood.—Their struggles have been long, constant, and almost fatal. Their wars have been the wars of cannibals. The character of the chiefs of the royal power, who acted their brutal parts upon the theatre of the south, are of the most gloomy complexion. The misery suffered by the poor emigrants in this colony is unimaginable. However, things go on most gloriously with the independents at present. The generous aid of the English, has given this party a national character. This campaign I think will determine the fate of the royalists. Defeat and disgrace begin already to attend their impious arms.

I had the pleasure of being introduced to Mr. B. Irvine, the American agent to Augustura, who, on his way home, passed some time with us, and obtained a considerable fund of knowledge, with respect to the history of this island. He was very well received, and much attention paid him, not by government, (for you must know our government detest the Yankees, as they style all the people of the United States) but by the liberal men, who are not engaged in government affairs on account of their distinguished liberality. He will undoubtedly transmit to the president a very favorable account of the newly established government of Venezuela. He resided there about eight months, and is a great observer of men and things.

There has been several skirmishes between the vanguard of the two armies, who are at present near San Fernando, on the Apure. The Apure is a branch of the Orinoco. The armies are reported to be equal in number, about 6000 strong.

The independents have about 2,500 English and German troops with them, under very able officers. They are well cloathed and in high spirits. The greatest discipline and order reign among the troops.—Gen. Paez's cavalry is 2,500 strong, and extremely well disciplined. He is a fine officer, and may be well styled the Leon of the patriots. We daily expect to receive information from that quarter. The congress is at present in session at Augustura. The government is well established, and some very able men are at the head of departments.

Guiria, Mathurin, and Cumanaco, are in possession of the independents.

Margaritta is still faithful, free, and independent.

An expedition is planning against Cumana. The fall of Cumana will put Barcelona and the whole sea coast, as far as Laguira, in possession of the patriots. Their success is certain.

The royal cause cannot be sustained but a few months longer.

LETTERS FROM LOUISIANA.

From a gentleman now in that country to his friend in the village of Springfield, Massachusetts.

LETTER II.

My Dear Sir,

This Letter commences with my arrival at New-Orleans, where I remained about two months, an idle though not a disinterested spectator of every thing that was passing around me in that most singular and most important city. I shall now give you a particular description of it, because I think it will doubtless afford you some little amusement. It was founded and laid out in the year 1717, and named after the then Regent of France, New-Orleans.—You will probably recollect that the country of Louisiana, was then under the government of France and afterwards ceded to the king of Spain, during the reign of Louis the XV.

The city of New-Orleans, as you will see by the map, is on the left bank of the Mississippi River, about 120 miles from the sea. The situation of it is very low and unpleasant. By the last census, taken in 1810, it contained 17,242 inhabitants, but it may be presumed now to contain about 30,000, who are mostly French. Since the purchase of Louisiana by the American Government, the Spanish part of its population has been gradually diminishing, many of whom have gone to the Island of Cuba, and other places under the jurisdiction of the Spanish Government, unwilling, I suppose to breathe the pure air of American Liberty, so that but few now remain; while the American part of its population has been rapidly increasing. The city is very well laid out, though the streets are not paved, and are otherwise narrow and dirty, and the houses very poor—the greater part of them but one story high and plastered on the outside, presenting at once a gloomy, unpleasant appearance, compared with the grandeur and magnificence of our northern cities. You who have often wandered delightfully through the streets of Boston, New-York, and Philadelphia, admiring their beauty and regularity, would be most wretchedly disgusted with the appearance of New-Orleans. The Levee between the city and the river, which might be made very delightful and pleasant, with but very little expense, is now literally a complete thoroughfare for every thing in the world, calculated to render it obnoxious and disagreeable.

The police regulations of the city are indeed outrageously miserable. A few scattering lamps, in the absence of the moon, affording but a faint and feeble light, are all that you see to light your footsteps through the dark and muddy streets. In addition to this, not a watchman's voice ever greets the ear, announcing the cheering declaration of your safety from the prowling footsteps of the midnight robber or the murderous assassin. If you walk the streets after dark, you must be sure to take with you in addition to a good cane, a brace of pistols or a dirk concealed under your waistcoat, or in your bosom, as a necessary means of defence. And you must be ready to use them too upon any sudden emergency of hostility towards you, which may happen, and which often does happen to people whose business calls them out after dark. And such is the criminally unparallelled neglect on the part of the Mayor and Corporation of the city, that little or no exertions are ever made to prevent it. If a man is robbed or murdered in the streets, the perpetrator of the horrid transaction is hardly ever sought after——of course he escapes with impunity. But we may hope not forever.—Though the officers of justice, to whom is given in charge the execution of the laws, may slumber at their posts, disregarding alike the importance and responsibility of their situations, a day of "reckoning and account" awaits the guilty and bloody handed wretch at the Bar of his God.

New Orleans, as every body knows, is remarkably well situated for commerce, being the stopping place for all the surplus produce of the whole western country, south and west of the Allegany mountains, which must, of course, all come down the Ohio and Mississippi rivers, to find a market.—But I have no papers or documents about me, from the collector of the revenue's office, to show you the amount of exports or imports during any period of time since the country of Louisiana became a part of our political confederacy, which was by the treaty of St. Ildefonso, concluded I think in 1803; and which has been rapidly increasing ever since. The great and overwhelming pressure upon the commercial world, has, however, reached this city, and many merchants, besides those who have been doing business entirely upon fictitious capitals, have been more or less affected by it. Many large and respectable houses have failed within the last three months—and many more must consequently share the same fate. But these embarrassments, growing out of causes not altogether within the control of the merchant, it may be calculated, are only temporary. A little time, it is presumed, will very materially alter the present state of things, and business assume a more correct and regular channel. Be this however as it may, New-Orleans, from the geographical situation of it, is certainly destined at some future day, to become one of the largest and most important commercial cities in the United States; which is all that can be said, at present, in favor of it—that it is unhealthy and subject to the yellow fever during the summer months, is undoubtedly a melancholy fact.—But how far this will go to retard its growth and population, no one is able to predict. Many causes, however, which now exist, calculated to produce that alarming and destructive disease, may be entirely removed, and will unquestionably be removed, whenever the city becomes Americanized, and a well regulated government and police established. At present it is in French hands, who are notoriously opposed to any thing like improvement, in whatever shape it may be brought before them. Another reason is, they don't like the Americans, and are, in fact, willing that any thing should exist, however destructive and dangerous, to prevent their emigration and settlement among them. Besides having been long accustomed to the climate themselves, the yellow fever seldom ever rages with much violence among them. Strangers and persons who have not resided there long, generally fall victims to it.

Once more adieu,
My dear H——.

By last Evening's Mail.

Washington, July 7.

A letter from a very respectable source at St. Louis, under date of the 7th ult. completely dissipates the rumor in circulation here and elsewhere, for ten days past, of the detention of the boats employed in the Western Expedition. The writer, who has the best means of information on the subject, thinks the expedition would not move from St. Louis sooner than the 20th of the month; but, notwithstanding the delay anticipated in the necessary inspection of provisions, and proper preparation of the steam boats, he conceives that every thing promises the most favorable issue to the expedition, though it cannot be said, before reaching the Council Bluffs, how much of the plan of the War Department can be executed this season. The writer of that letter adds, that he has not the least doubt of the practicability of navigating the Missouri with steam power, notwithstanding the almost universal opinion to the contrary. [*Nat. Boston, July 2.

We yesterday received by the Texel, our file of Brussels papers to 10th May.—Their contents are not very interesting.—The following article is extracted from one of them.

Copenhagen, April 28.—A Haytian vessel (from St. Domingo) has arrived in the sound. This is the first belonging to the black nation, which has entered the Baltic. The captain says he is going to Lubec, to purchase grain—He complains much of the negroes who compose his crew—they are rogues, thieves, and will do any thing rather than work in manœuvring the vessel. The captain has killed two of them with his own hand, acting under the laws of his government, which prescribe the pain of death for numerous faults, that, with the whites, are punished only with imprisonment for a limited time.

Most Valuable Landed Property for Sale.

BEING anxious to move to the south-western country, I am disposed to sell that most valuable and well known farm in Charles county, Maryland, called The Meadows, and a part of Westwood Manor.—This tract contains 98[illegible] acres, is most eligibly situated, lying in the fork of the two branches of the Wicomico river. As to fertility of soil, and advantages of every description, it is equalled but by few—surpassed by none.

Also, the farm on which I reside, called Somerset, in the County of King George, Virginia. This tract contains 676 acres, by late survey, and is also well situated, lying on the Potomac river, (opposite col. J. Taylor's Maryland Poin testate) and bounded by the same upwards of a mile, is in a progressive state of improvement under the clover and plaster system, which has succeeded beyond my most sanguine expectations.

Also, two other small tracts in Westmoreland county, Va. containing 325 acres.

Also, 1140 acres of military land, in the state of Ohio.

As it is presumed that no person will (and as it is my desire that no one should) purchase without viewing the premises, I will not give a minute description of these tracts. Indisputable title will be made in every instance. Persons wishing to purchase, will please make application personally, or by letter addressed, to the subscriber, near Hampstead post office, Va.

Public Sale.

ON the 9th DAY of JULY next, at 12 o'clock of that day, by virtue of a deed of trust, we will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, on the premises, that very valuable tract of land in Fairfax county, near Holmes's Run, and about four miles from Alexandria, generally known by the name of containing about 115 acres. This land is about one half in wood—the balance cleared, and in cultivation, with convenient buildings on it, and excellent water near them. A considerable proportion of the open land is fertile, and well calculated for timothy meadows.

The sum of $2,254 77 cts will be required to be paid in cash; for the residue a credit of twelve months will be given from the day of sale, the purchaser paying interest thereon, and giving satisfactory security for the punctual payment thereof. A conveyance will be made when the purchase money and interest is all paid up. If the terms of the sale should not be complied with by the purchaser, the premises will be immediately re-sold to the highest bidder, at the risque of the person to whom it shall have been struck off; and the same course will be repeated until an effectual sale shall have taken place.

JOHN HOPKINS

Hill and Dale, April 20.

Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaister acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary outhouse, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvass backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensels and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia

S. Drew, Merchant Tailor,

Removed from Fairfax-street to the corner of King and Columbus streets, and his prices falling

RESPECTFULLY acquaints his customers and the citizens in general that he has removed as above, where he will study to give satisfaction. He has by him a small but well assorted stock of goods, which will be found on inspection to be of the best quality, the whole of which he wishes to sell low for cash, and as further inducements to purchasers he offers to cut out any goods, bought of him to any size or pattern gratis.

S. Drew aware, of the advantage a ready money business has over one where long credit is given, thinks that a distinction ought to be made in the prices in each case: and as the price of provisions are low at present, he is glad to be able to announce to those customers who will feel disposed to pay him ready money for his work, that he will reduce the price of making to them according to the present journeymen's wages; and to prevent any supposed imposition on the one hand or disatisfaction on the other he is willing to be goverued by the printed regulations of prices by which the journeymen are paid in Alexandria.

N. B. Bread, flour, beef, groceries, liquors or any thing valuable taken in exchange for clothes.

S. Drew has this day opened a tavern in the same house, where he has laid in a a supply of Philadelphia and the district porter and ale, together with liquors of the best quality, and he feels confident that he shall be able to give satisfaction to all who will please to favor him with a call.—He is fitting up his house for the accommodation of boarders, travellers, &c. and from its central situation, good beds and stabling, together with other requisites, he presumes that it will be found a convenient establishment.

PROSPECTUS

Of a new periodical work to be published in the city of Washington, entitled the Washington Theological REPERTORY.

EDITORS. { Rev. Wm Hawley, Washington,
Rev. Wm. H. Wilmer, Alexandria
Rev. Oliver Norris, Alexandria
Rev. Reuel Keith, Georgetown.

Assisted by several other literary gentlemen of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

IF any apology were necessary for this undertaking, it may be found in the fact, that there is no publication on a similar plan, in all that section of our country lying south of New-York, and but one in the whole of the United States. It has been matter of equal surprize and regret, that the Episcopal Church should be so far behind other Christian denominations, in similar efforts to disseminate the principles of religion and piety. At a period like the present, when the Lord is preparing his way on earth, by the most remarkable efforts of human agency, and the most wonderful operations of his providence and grace—when we perceive in every part of Christendom, a praise-worthy emulation to share in the glorious work of filling the earth with the knowledge of the only true God, and his Son Jesus Christ; it would seem criminal for any to withhold their exertions, however feeble, in the great enterprize of human happiness and salvation. The editors have, therefore, felt it their duty to make this humble effort to supply this acknowledged deficiency on the part of the church in this section of the country, and to bear their share in the common exertions of Christians to promote the Redeemer's Kingdom. And having obtained the services of a gentleman, in whose talents and principles they have confidence, whose time will be wholly devoted to the superintendence of the work, they feel encouraged to solicit the patronage of the public.

The publecation will be conducted under the immediate inspection and control of the above named editors, who will form a committee to review every article intended for publication. The principles upon which it will be conducted are those of the bible, as illustrated in the articles, Liturgy and Homilies of the Protestant Episcopal Church. As members of this church the editors will feel bound to support the Apostolical character of her institutions, the pious tendency of her rites and ceremonies, and the evangelical nature of her doctrines. But in these, and all other discussions, they hope never to loose sight of that great law of charity which teaches us to "preserve the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace"

Acting upon those catholic principles, so long and so successively pursued by "The Christian Observer," their chief object will be to inculcate sound theological knowledge, and to delineate and recommend pure and vital religion. They trust therefore, that while the members of every Christian denomination may find something edifying and instructive, none will discover any just cause for offence in the pages of this work. General subjects of biblical criticism, practical illustrations of scriptural truth, the biography of illustrious persons, evidences of the truth of revelation, essays on the history and polity of the church, reviews of interesting publications, religious, literary and philosophical intelligence—in short, whatever is connected with the promotion of religion, humanity and literature, will find a place in this repository.

The testimony of experience supersedes the necessity of dwelling on the advantages of a periodical publication on the plan proposed. Its obvious tendency will be to render the various departments of religious knowledge more easy and accessible, and give a more ready currency and wider circulation, to those great truths which involve the present welfare and future destiny of man.

It will tend powerfully to stimulate the exertions of the editors, and console them under the difficulties attendant on the prosecution of this work, amidst many other avocations, should it prove the means under the blessing of God, of enriching any of its readers with the saving knowledge of Christ, and prepare them for a participation in the felicity and glory of his heavenly kingdom. With this hope they commit it into his hands, and confidently solicit their brethren of the clergy and laity to assist them in carrying into effect the objects of the undertaking.

TERMS OF THE WORK.

A volume of the Repertory shall consist of twelve numbers, of which one shall be published on the first day of every month, containing thirty-two large octavo pages, stitched in blue, and attended with a table of contents.

The paper used in the work shall be good, and the typography executed with the greatest care.

The price of a volume is two dollars, payable in advance; to such as omit the advance, two dollars and fifty cents.

It is designed to enlarge the size of the work, without increasing the price, as soon as one thousand subscribers shall be obtained.

Communications and remittances may be directed to any of the editors, post paid.

Any person becoming responsible for five subscribers, shall receive a sixth copy gratis.

The first number may be expected in the month of July. June 26
